Woodsfield

Typescript submitted by Father Goebel:

History of St. Sylvester's, Woodsfield.

Congregation was formed in year 1866. Until then, catholics used to go to Miltonsburg to church.

Church is brick; made of the clay of the grounds.

Erected by Rev. N. E. Pilger 1867.

Lot for church and cemetery consisting of two acres situated in southern part of Woodsfield, was purchased of Senator James Morris for $200.00. Cost of edifice was $9000.00.

Fr. Pilger gathered some of the money from the twelve families composing the parish; the rest he collected from house to house in Cincinnati.

The church was enlarged by extending it thirty feet. this was done in 1886 by Rev. John B. Weisinger, at a cost of $2000.00.

The original families who helped were: Joseph Baker; Michael Hoessler; Joseph Schumacher Sr.; and Stephan Dougherty.

School:

There have been two school houses.

First was of logs, built about 1870, cost not more than $100.00 and was used till 1883.

Second: The log school was moved to the rear and a frame two storey building erected

Father Tiburtius Anthony Goebel was born in Marietta in 1869 and was ordained by Bishop Watterson in 1893. He served at parishes in Steubenville (Holy Name), Wheelersburg, Woodsfield, and Coshocton before being assigned to St. Mary Parish in Portsmouth in 1912. He was still there in 1949 when Pope Pius XII named him a "Monsignor." At that time Bishop Ready called him "the beloved Patriarch among the Priests of the Diocese." He died on February 23, 1953. This photo was taken in 1912, just a few years after he wrote the notices of the Woodsfield parish and its missions. (Courtesy of the Archives, Diocese of Columbus) in front of it. The first storey of new addition has two class rooms. The old log part and the upstairs of the new building serves the purpose of a Sisters residence. The new addition cost $800.00.

Lay persons taught from 1870 to 1886. From 1886 to present Sisters have been employed.

Parsonage:

A frame parsonage was built by Fr. Weisinger in 1882. It cost $900.00. The money was raised by subscriptions, picnics etc.

Cemetery:

The name is St. Sylvester's. It is a part of the two acres comprising the church yard.

Ozark

Typescript submitted by Father Goebel:

History of Immaculate Conception Church, Ozark, Ohio.

Congregation was formed in year 1875.

Corner stone for frame church was laid Aug. 31" 1875.

It was dedicated in Fall of 1876 and cost $1400.00.

Site for church and cemetery comprises two acres.

One acre was donated by George Burkhart and one acre by a Lutheran, John Adam Gertler.

School:

There is a school house. It was built in Fall of 1891, at an expense of $300.00. Most of lumber and labor was donated. School was held two winters. The term was for only three months. The teachers were lay teachers.

Parsonage: There is no parish house.

Ozark was attended from its origin until 1883 by the pastor of Miltonsburg. From 1883 to the present time by the pastor of Woodsfield.

The greater part of the money was raised by subscriptions; the rest by picnics and various extraordinary means.

List of Pastors who attended Ozark.

Rev. Joseph Buss. who built church; from 1875 to Oct. 15-1876.

[The rest of the list is identical to Woodsfield's.]

List of first members. George Burkhart, John Huth, Peter Kuhn, John Reasbeck, Adam Arnold, John Coffey, Anthony Burkhart.

Immaculate Conception Church in Ozark

PERRY COUNTY

St. Joseph near Somerset

Form sent in by Rev. D. J. Kennedy, O.P.:

1. [Foundation date] First chapel, or church, built of logs, was blessed Dec. 6th 1818 - First permanent location of a Catholic Church in Ohio (as far as we know).

2. [Property purchase dates] One half section of land was donated by Jacob Dittoe, and his wife Catherine. Date of Deed May 28-1818.

3. [Schools and teachers] College for Boys established about 1850. Closed 1862 or 1863 (Many students from South.) Amongst students was Phil Sheridan College taught by Fathers and Brothers.

4. [Date of rectory] Pastors always lived in Convent.

5. [History of church and other buildings] First church was of logs, to which addition was made of stone and bricks.

Walls of present brick church were erected in 1839-40. Convent and church (all but walls) destroyed by fire in January 1864 - Church immediately repaired. Present Convent erected under Fr. H. F. Lilly in 1880-81. High Altar under Fr. H. F. Lilly Xmas 1878. Frescoed, stained-glass windows - new stations (general renovation of interior of church) under Rev. D. J. Kennedy 1899.

6. [Cemetery, dates, consecration, administration] Old cemetery adjoining church abandoned in 1881. New Cemetery consecrated by Bp. Watterson in 1882. Cemetery is in part of old college site. Administered by Pastor.

7. [Title] All property is held in name of "The Literary Society of St. Joseph's, Perry County, Ohio"

8. [Pastors] First pastor Rev. Edward Fenwick - Amongst successors may be mentioned Rev. N. D. Young, J. T. Jarboe, C. D. Bowling, J. A. Bokel, M. D. Lilly, H. F. Lilly, A. V. Higgins, L. F. Kearney.

9. [Assistants] One was always sufficient for pastoral work. Fathers assigned to Convent always acted as assistants and took care of churches erected in various places (Lancaster, St. Patricks Junction City, New Lexington, McCluney, Chapel Hill (----?) Canton. Frs. Allemany (afterwards Arch-bp) and Vilarassa (once Prior) were stationed here.

10. [Dates of each pastor etc.] Have not at hand complete records - Prior of Convent always acted as Pastor of Church. Priors changed every three years, though there have been exceptions.

11. [Method of funding] Gound was donated by Jacob Dittoe. Money for building church was collected all over the country; some was collected even in Cuba, by Fr. (Archbp.) Alemany, who brought back from Cuba the large life-size figure of Christ, now on high altar, which attracts attention and excites admiration.

12. [Dates of funding and expenditures] [blank]

13. [Laity worthy of mention] Jacob Dittoe and his wife Catherine who donated the land, are the principal benefactors. Other donations have been made in the course of time: the congregation has always been poor, and the church would not be what it is without the labors of the Fathers and occasional benefactions from friends throughout in United States.

14. [Anything else of importance] Will write later - Documents are in hands of Fr. O'Daniel or Fr. Volz. The latter is preparing a history of our Province.

D. J. Kennedy O.P.

Junction City

Form sent in 1907 by Rev. William H. O'Sullivan:

1. [Foundation date] 1819. About this time

2. [Property purchase dates] We have no records as this parish was attended for many years by the Dominicans from Somerset.

3. [Schools and teachers] None

4. [Date of rectory] Yes - 1867 - Fr. Wm.

H. O'Sullivan became permanent pastor in the year 1872 December 24 - prior to this was attended off and on by many Dominicans from St. Joseph's Perry Co.

5. [History of church and other buildings] The present church was built in 1846 and the house in 1867

6. [Cemetery, dates, consecration, administration] Yes - 1st cemetery in 1846 - new land was bought by Fr. O'Sullivan in 1892. Not consecrated-people buy graves.

7. [Title] None

8. [Pastors] Impossible to tell In the year 1872 The present pastor was appointed by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Rosecrans. He being the first secular priest to have charge of this parish.

9. [Assistants] None

10. [Dates of each pastor etc.] Don't know

11. [Method of funding] The usual means, collections & donations

12. [Dates of funding and expenditures] Know nothing about this

13. [Laity worthy of mention] None

14. [Anything else of importance] We are innocent of any knowledge of this subject unless the fact that the present pastor has been hanging his hat on the same wall for 35 years this 24th December - and during this time has never received half the salary he was entitled to by the statutes. He blames not the statutes of the diocese but his own bashfulness.

Wm. H. O'Sullivan

New Straitsville

Form sent by Father Kellerman:

Died at St. Mary's Academy, Somerset, Perry Co., Ohio, on the 8th day of December, Margaret Moynagh, daughter of Jas. and Bridget Moynagh, of Eresipelas, in the 16th year of her age. The deceased was an amiable and interesting youth. She was carried to the grave, followed by her mourning relatives, and friends her teachers, and school-mates, and a number of citizens. She had been in the Academy as a boarder but a few days, having previous to that time, been a day scholar, at the institution. It appeared as though her good Angel Guardian, had conducted her to that Holy Sanctuary, to yield up her chaste soul to her God, whom she so tenderly loved, and also to have the consolation and prayers of those good and holy sisters, who surrounded her dying couch, both night, and day, until her pure spirit fled to its home, in Heaven....

Rev. John Nicholas Thisse was ordained deacon of the 24th and priest on the 28th in the Chapel of St. Peter's Orphan Asylum.

ADDRESS FROM THE IRISH CATHOLIC
CONGREGATION OF COLUMBUS TO THE REV'D JAMES MEAGHER.

REV. AND DEAR SIR: As little children do we approach you, to tender to you a small token of our heartfelt thanks, and deep gratitude for the zealous and exemplary manner in which you have fulfilled the duties of a Pastor since the time it pleased God in his Divine Providence to send you to preside over us, to guide and to teach us. Be assured, Rev'd. Sir, that we speak in the language of sincerity, when we say that our thanks and gratitude are, as our faith, pure and firmly seated.

And how can it be otherwise? To look back and view our position on your arrival amongst us--we behold ourselves, united in faith it is true, but disjointed, estranged, disunited, and cavilling; lacking that unity of sentiment and action so necessary to the promotion of sound morality and true piety. We behold, the spot on which now stands that beautiful temple dedicated to the Living god under the invocation of the sainted Apostle of our Fatherland, a solitary plat seldom trodden by the foot of a true believer. Since then we have seen you toil and travel, under a parching sun, in the storm, and in calm, to the remotest limits under your pastoral care; we have felt and understood your purity of purpose; we have listened to your counsel; we have drank deeply of your fervent exhortations; we have heard your advice, and, now, O, what a change! We are no longer disturbed by the canker of local prejudice, no! we feel that we are brothers, the children of one merciful and loving father, united in one faith, one baptism and one fold, having a temple wherein to worship (as it were with one voice) our common Father.

And now, Rev'd. Sir, feeling ourselves indebted to your indefatigable exertions, wise counsels, and holy example, for such blessings we beg you will accept of this equipage, an earnest of our lasting esteem and gratitude, and we pray our Heavenly Father to grant you an increase of strength, health, and fortitude to perform your many and sacred duties; beseeching for ourselves also a spirit of meekness, humility and piety that will render us worthy to be called your children and the children of God.
